4th International Symposium on Development of CBRN Protection Capabilities

03rd - 05th September 2018, Berlin

Welcome to the 4th International Symposium on Development of CBRN-Defence Capabilities, a high-ranking international conference.

The 4th International Symposium on Development of CBRN Protection Capabilities will take place in Berlin from 3 to 5 September 2018.

As in previous years, Germany will once again provide a professional platform for encounters and exchange of the international CBRN protection community. International experts will inform representatives from the fields of politics, administration, industry, academia, civilian and military organisations about latest developments in security policy and provide an up-to-date risk assessment with a view to chemical, biological, radiological and nuclear risks and the challenges they represent for military and civilian systems when it comes to hazard prevention. The list of international participants clearly indicates that protecting against the effects and impact of CBRN dangers is a top priority around the globe. As a result, CBRN continues to be in the focus when it comes to improving preventive security measures.

The Call for Papers is now open (click here for details). You are invited to submit your proposal for a speech / poster session until January 31, 2018.

Registration for Exhibitors is open (click here to sign up / click here for the Floorplan), Visitor Registration opens in Spring 2018.

Many CBRNe threats are developing and many terrorist cells are looking at different ways to create destruction across major cities in Europe. Our event will focus on many aspects of CBRNe to provide you an complete overview of the challenges faced to our first responders, emergency services and military in responding to new style attacks in our urban cities.

Our 2018 show will focus on the following topics over the two day conference and exhibition; Italian CBRNe Capabilities and Challenges, Maritime CBRNe threats, Chem-Bio Countermeasure Development, CBRNe Forensics, Countering IED's, Security in Public Spaces - Increasing CBRNe threats and Military-Civil CBRNe Response Cooperation.

After the event you should come away with a complete and diverse understanding of how national first responders deal with CBRNe attacks from preparations, response, decon, recovery, forensics and lessons learnt. You will hear in-depth presentations from leading officials on different CBRNe threats.

As well as reviewing different threat scenarios we will also be looking at new emerging CBRNe threats during the conference such as CBRNe threats in the maritime domain which is becoming a major concern to the Italian Navy. Another developing threat is the capability of terrorist cells using drones with chem-bio payloads to attack public places for mass casualties. During the conference these new challenges will be discussed.

To be part of the largest gathering of CBRNe professionals in Europe please contact us via email at events@intelligence-sec.com or by phone +44 (0)1582 346 706 and we will be happy to provide you further information on you can participate either as a speaker, sponsor/exhibitor or as delegates.

Recognized as the Summit of Business and Defense, the 9th edition of ISDEF is it set to be the largest defense and homeland security exhibition ever held in Israel.

Since 2007, ISDEF, the premier international defense and homeland security expo, has been catering to the needs of the Military, Police, Special Forces, and HLS by exposing them to the products and solutions provided by innovative defense and security companies worldwide. The

CBRNE-Terrorism Newsletter – March 2018

9th edition of ISDEF will take place from June 4-6, 2019 at the Tel Aviv Convention Center in Tel Aviv, Israel.

As a top national priority, defense and security in Israel are more than just exportable commodities. The strategic realities that Israel faces dictate the need for close cooperation, communication, and innovation.

ISDEF is an event that brings the relevant decision makers and practitioners together to enhance international strategic cooperation and dialogue. Our exhibition highlights the achievements and strengths of Israel and provides a perfect stage for Israel's well-earned worldwide reputation as a key player in the global defense and security market.

With an expected 300 exhibiting companies and 15,000 visitors from across the globe, ISDEF 2019 will maintain its position as the largest defense and homeland security exhibition in Israel and the only international trade show for the defense and security industry. More than 50% of the exhibitors at ISDEF are international companies and 85% of the attendees have buying power.

ISDEF brings the International and Israeli Defense and Homeland Security communities together in a unique configuration. The exhibition provides the ideal platform for international companies to exhibit their innovations to an audience that includes key figures from the security and defense industry, government, and military officials from the international community, and the opportunity to network with the relevant players on a global level.

NCT USA 2018

The world's #1 CBRN, EOD and demining event series is back for its 4th edition at the Hilton Dulles in Washington DC, USA! Taking place from 3-5 April 2018 at the Hilton Dulles Hotel, NCT USA 2018 is going to be again the must attend networking forum in CBRN/EOD/C-IED defense and response in the US.

CBRNE-Terrorism Newsletter – March 2018

Following the footsteps of successful NCT CBRNe USA 2016 and NCT USA 2017, NCT USA 2018 will host two separate conferences: NCT CBRNe USA, covering of aspects of CBRNe, and NCT Workshops, offering a more interactive dialogue platform.

In the best tradition of NCT events, NCT USA will be opened by a live CBRNe Capability demonstration performed by the local and federal first responders, followed by two days of exhibition, conferences and targeted workshops. With high-ranking speakers and delegates from major decision making bodies, and outstanding networking opportunities, NCT USA is an event not to be missed in 2018!

Don't take our word for it, these are experiences from last year:

"Having the opportunity to speak at the NCT USA Conference in Washington D.C. I witnessed a very well organized conference hosted by ib Consultancy. From the Live Demonstrations to the top notch speakers who provided a wealth of knowledge that incorporates the entire CBRNe community and the many threats and challengers we face. ib Consultancy, through their conferences, have provided an opportunity to get us all on the same page as we face the many known and unknown threats ahead". Sergeant Christopher E. Connolly, Boston Police Explosive Ordnance Unit, USA

"The conference was not only informative, but open and dynamic. The perfect combination of industry players, end users and science partners exceeded my expectation. Very detailed and effective speakers... clearly defined responders and industry challenges". Gordan Pesic, DOK-ING

Venue

The 3rd edition of the world's #1 CBRN, EOD and demining event will take place at the Hilton Washington Dulles Airport hotel, the largest hotel and conference event centre in the DC area. Address: 13869 Park Center Rd, Herndon, VA 20171, USA, Phone: +1 703 478 2900.

COUNTERING VIOLENT EXTREMISM
 23, 24th May 2018
View the agenda here

Defence IQ is delighted to announce the return of Countering Violent Extremism 2018. From Paris and Brussels to Manchester, in 2017 we saw a concerning continuation of terrorist and extremist attacks on European soil and further abroad. Extremism and acts of targeted violence continue to impact our local communities and online violent propaganda has permeated social media.

European nations have been stepping up security led counter measures to combat violent extremism. Yet, prevention and the "soft" aspects of counterterrorism must also be kept in mind. The concept of Countering Violent Extremism (CVE), in conjunction with peace and development policies, has developed as part of a modern approach to combatting this persistent threat. Don't miss the opportunity to take part in this unique interactive event, which brings together stakeholders from across the military, government, law enforcement and NGOs. This event will give you the chance to assess potential solutions and understand how you can effectively implement them into your strategic communications and engagement campaigns.

International Security Expo 2018

Announcement: UK Security Expo expands and now becomes International Security Expo

UK Security Expo run by Nineteen Events, will undergo a major expansion in 2018 due to increased demand from overseas companies and now becomes the International Security Expo.

With over 12,500 visitors and 350 exhibitors expected on November 28-29 in London, an increase of 38% on the previous year, the event is growing at exceptional speed. To accommodate this growth the show will take not only the entire Grand Hall at London Olympia but also the adjoining West Hall to cater for the larger number of international visitors and exhibitors, more dedicated Country Pavilions including the USA, Canada, China, Israel, Singapore and Japan, inclusion of more conferences such as Hotel, Retail, education and Night Time Economy Security and also the brand new Urban Spaces immersive feature.

David Woodbridge, Foreign Engagement Officer comments, "Working with The Department for International Trade (DIT)'s Defence & Security Organisation (DSO), the Home Office (JSaRC) and The Department for Transport (DfT) – we help our UK exhibitors increase exports by building relationships with overseas buyers, raising awareness of UK industry capabilities, and co-ordinating HM Government support for export opportunities in established and developing markets.

We have seen a growing demand from International buyers over the past 2 years, with government hosted delegations rising from 30 countries to 57 countries in 2017 and increasing to 65 countries in 2018 - representing over £1bn of spending power. Plus, an increase in overseas companies recognising the value of the UK market and its global influence, reflected in our growing number of country pavilions. We are also pleased to have recently secured funding from Visit Britain who recognise our success in bringing international buyers into the UK and aim to further support our growth plans."

International Security Expo will continue to focus on high-end Homeland Security capabilities with exhibiting companies such as L3, NUCTECH, QinetiQ, Rapiscan, Rohde & Schwarz, Hartmann, HERAS, Rosehill Security and Zaun taking centre stage on the show floor, but will also blend more with Commercial Security technologies aimed at Buildings and Facilities, Hotels, Retailer and Night Time Economy buyers, delivering higher ROI for exhibitors from a more extensive buying chain.

CBRNE-Terrorism Newsletter – March 2018

Peter Jones, Chief Executive at Nineteen Events, who is overseeing the transition to International Security Expo says, “Our vision is to deliver the largest and most credible global security event. The UK is the right place to host the international security community each year as it has an established security industrial base producing first class solutions which are highly regarded around the world. It is also seen as a world leader in implementing the best solutions to increasing security challenges. International Security Expo is the natural progression for the show brand and strengthens our position in achieving our objectives in the near future.”

9th International Conference on Tularemia

The International Conferences fulfill a major purpose of the Tularemia International Society, namely to facilitate the assembly, acquaintance, and association of scientists engaged in tularemia research.

Tularemia meetings focus on fundamental, clinical, and applied research regarding any aspect of Francisella tularensis. Research uncovers not only the biology of this fascinating bacterium, but also provides the basis for future development of treatments, preventive interventions, and disease diagnosis.

CBRNE-Terrorism Newsletter – March 2018

SPONSORED BY THE TULAREMIA SOCIETY INTERNATIONAL

The forthcoming 9th International Conference will keep with past traditions by maintaining an interdisciplinary program. The meeting will highlight research efforts on the pathogenesis, cell biology, pathogenesis, animal models, diagnostics, vaccines, therapeutics, clinical features, ecology, epidemiology, and host responses to Francisella. An overarching goal of the three day program is to provide an environment that will serve to promote connections and collaboration among scientists doing cutting edge research regarding Francisella.
