

CBRNE-Terrorism Newsletter

MEDIA KIT

CBRNE-Terrorism Newsletter is an on-line open source information e-journal targeting First Responders around the world. Currently it is a bimonthly edition; as of January 2014 will change to a monthly edition - provided free of charge to those involved in CBRNE and counter-terrorism operations.

Newsletter evolved in November 2005 as an effort to keep the personnel of the 2004 Olympic Hospital CBRN Response Unit, Army General Hospital of Athens, Greece that I had the honor to create and command, updated in issues relevant to CBRNE operations.

In a later phase the component of terrorism was added since both CBRNE threats and terrorism belong to asymmetric threats.

During the first three years the Newsletter was solely in Greek. As time went by and responsibilities and duties were sky-rocked it was transformed to an English version with Greek comments or key-points. Finally it was transformed to an English on-line Newsletter mainly due to its high appeal in specialized response personnel around the globe. These colleagues were the important advertisers of the Newsletter and the moving power behind a lonely process and a "passion" for this specialized field of operations.

CBRNE-Terrorism Newsletter will always focus in the content and not in the looks because the people who edit it strongly believe that "knowledge is power". In that respect, they will do their best to change the current NBC (No Body Cares) perception into "real" CBRNE awareness and preparedness. The "unexpected always happens" and we, as personalities, hate surprises!

Opinions expressed in the Newsletter's articles are those of the writers of the articles and do not necessarily express those of the members of the Editorial Team; same applies for the "Editor's comments" that in certain occasions accompany various articles.
